Forecast For Northeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Wednesday 08 Sep 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Bright and sunny today, thundery tomorrow.

Today:
A misty and possibly foggy start across much of the region, although steadily clearing during the morning to a bright and sunny day. Feeling very warm with light southerly winds, turning hazy later in the day. Maximum temperature 27 deg C (81 deg F).

Tonight:
Scattered cloud developing during the evening, gradually thickening up overnight with a chance of some rain by dawn. Mild overnight. Minimum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Thursday:
Showers developing towards the south and gradually becoming widespread across the area by afternoon. These may be heavy and thundery at times, continuing until late evening. Turning cooler. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Scattered showers with a low risk of thunder on Friday. Drier on Saturday with sunny spells. Turning cloudy overnight and persisting on Sunday, light drizzle at times. Temperatures near normal.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.